ABOUT WHITE SHARK PROJECTS

AFRICA

White Shark Projects

White Shark Projects is a world leading organisation founded in 1989 purely as a research centre and has now broadened its reach by establishing a commercial arm and by funding a non-profit organisation, the South African Shark Conservancy.

The project is dedicated to the exploration and conservation of the world's greatest predators, the white shark and all other shark species in its environment.

The project works with students, eco-tourists, conservation organisations and marine resource users (subsistence fishermen, sport divers and dive operators) to gather data on shark species, correct negative misconceptions about sharks and stop the needless slaughter of over 100 million sharks annually.

ABOUT THE PROJECT

AFRICA

Location

The project is based at Kleinbaai which is located just outside Gansbaai, South Africa; a seaside village approximately two hours southeast of Cape Town on the Atlantic Ocean coast.

Shark trips primarily take place off Dyer and Geyser Islands which are located approximately 6 nautical miles off shore. Dyer Island is a breeding ground for the African penguin, Cape cormorants and the Cape gannet while Geyser Island is a breeding ground for the Afro-Australian Fur Seal (Cape fur seal) with approximately 60,000 locally.

The boats anchor in the deep channel between the islands, this channel is called "Shark Alley" and is a magnet for many shark species including the copper shark, the broadnose sevengill shark and the elusive migratory white shark due to the breeding colony of fur seals; this is a great area for cage diving as the islands, reefs and huge kelp beds all provide protection from the sea swell and wind.

ABOUT YOUR PROJECT

AFRICA

Your two project locations

Your 12 night project is split between two locations, in the Western Cape Province of South Africa. You will first work as a volunteer with White Shark Projects in Gansbaai to assist in the conservation of the world's greatest predators, the white shark and all other shark species in its environment. You will then travel to Cape Town where you will have a chance to explore the city over two nights. Project locations and duration are as follows:

Itinerary

10 Nights

White Shark Projects – Gansbaai – Western Cape Province

2 Nights

City Tour – Cape Town – Western Cape Province

It's important to remember that wildlife does not work to an agenda, therefore activities may change at short notice!

ABOUT THE PROJECT

AFRICA

Your Programme

On arrival you will receive a full induction into the programme and meet the team you will be working with on land and out at sea.

Trips out to sea on the commercial shark vessel are weather dependent but the aim is for a minimum of four trips out to sea on the group programme, one of which will be exclusive, just the volunteers and crew on the boat.

You will be taught how to collect data on free-swimming sharks. At sea you will focus on working with the sharks from above and below the water. Cage divers are responsible for recording observations on all sharks including species, sex, size, markings and behaviour.

Lectures will include basic shark biology and ecology, shark behaviours, research projects and conservation initiatives, local Cape fur seal and whale behaviour; depending on the season you may be lucky enough to see southern right whales which migrate to the area to mate and calve.

ABOUT THE PROJECT

AFRICA

Your Programme – ‘Shark Days’

Training will be given on how to monitor sharks and on working on the shark cage diving vessel. The duties you undertake may change from day to day however you will always be working in conjunction with a qualified crew member from White Shark Projects.

- Boat and cage preparation pre- and post-trip
- Equipment check – diving equipment, bait, food etc.
- Preparation and distribution of wet suits for clients
- Assist with anchoring, cast off
- Constant shark spotting to assist crew, clients and fellow volunteers
- Data recording & weekly collation of all data
- Post trip boat clean
- Clean and tidy away wet suits post trip
- Client assistance as required
- Provide information to clients and generally interact with them
- Write for the project’s blog & share pictures for social media
- Assist at the recycle swop shop one day per week (contributions are always welcome)
- Trip to South African Shark Conservancy with possible small species shark dissection and talk by the founder
- Lectures from the project’s marine biologist

It's important to remember that marine life does not work to an agenda, therefore activities may change at short notice!
