

Football Coaching & Playing Project – Accra, Ghana

About the Project

Football is the number one sport in Ghana and borders on religion for the majority of it's population. This volunteer experience places you as a football coach and player in Ghana's capital, Accra. You'll work with local youth teams (ages U12–U17) and community clubs, helping run training sessions, supervise matches, and develop players' skills. Volunteers of all experience levels are welcome - whether you're a player, a budding coach, or someone enthusiastic about the game. You'll work alongside local coaches and other volunteers, contributing to team development and structure. This is a hugely rewarding experience where you will give these hugely passionate players the opportunity to develop their skills in a fun structured environment.

Living in Accra

Accra is a vibrant, welcoming city with rich culture, markets, nightlife, beaches, and historic sites. Volunteers often explore Cape Coast Castle, Wli Waterfalls and Mole National Park in their free time.
