

Sports Film, Photography, and Media Production Internship – Castries, St Lucia

Project Overview

The Sports Film & Media Internship in Castries, St Lucia gives you a unique opportunity to develop your sports filmmaking, photography and media production skills while supporting a development-through-sports charity. You'll create compelling content that highlights the impact of sports programmes for children and youth in under-resourced communities. Your work directly contributes to fundraising, marketing and awareness campaigns, helping the organisation tell powerful stories and attract support for its mission. We also work with some of the island's elite performers such as the National Rugby and Netball Teams and some of the islands best emerging Tennis and Cricket players. Interns can work with coaches to capture footage for video analysis and technical modelling. Opportunities are also available to teach photography and videography to children within our in-school and community projects.

Must be graduate or undergraduate in photography, film or related subject*
